Dear Sankar,

Frontiers very much want to improve the experience we create for Guest Editors and help you be more impactful. In order to accomplish this, my colleagues in our "product" team need to hear from researchers like you.

Can we set up an interview appointment?

We would love to schedule a 1 hour remote interview. During the hour, someone from the product team will ask you about your experiences. They may also ask you to navigate a mockup webpage experience while sharing your screen and give us your thoughts on this. Your opinion matters to us.

Scheduling

Please choose a time and date that works for you using this link.

Thank you

Your participation would be a tremendous help. Could I convince you to participate? As a token of our appreciation, we would like to send you a kiva.org or Amazon gift card for EUR50.

If you're up for it, please let me know what time would work for you.

Best regards,

Emily
